

World of wonders, world of woes – chances of peace, do we care how it goes?

From the earlier essays readers will have considered the merits of the salient points proposed, with the benefit of our new found bodily electrical energy measured in joules, are: -

1. a new dimension of philosophy to be known as Godlyanity and be promulgated by the religions upon the foundation of
2. a wider use of TASKS being Truthfulness Accountability Service Kindness Synthesis to form five duties for the recovery of integrity through
3. the love among us to have wider effect and benefit by 'Love through TASKS' to form and facilitate
4. the basis of new leadership to recover the imperative basic cultures common to and required of us all.

The foregoing can be encouraged in the following futuristic theories.

SOME PRACTICAL PROBLEMS FOR FUTURITY

George Washington is quoted as saying, "The mind must dilate with the dimensions of a continent and extend with the revolutions of futurity".

Obviously the first President of the United States was a visionary on behalf of his newly formed country. He knew that its future would bring about momentous changes by and for its people, not all beneficial but hopefully so, in that great but occasionally mistaken country. To achieve beneficial changes we need to work with 'our best self' as the late Alice Bailey put it. In her many years of Esoteric Teaching she wrote 24 books and other papers about the shrine of man's living and about the restructuring of the lives of humanity being based upon the spiritual entreaty of Love. This seems to need a simple and practical plan to widen its appeal and to bring its purpose into effect. TASKS fulfils this because of its segmental parts in the meaning of Love and, with the future as the purpose for which we are working, it becomes incumbent upon us to practice love both for ourselves, our offspring and others.

Another aspect of futurity was described by John Lloyd in his excellent article in London's Financial Times of 12th January 2002 under the title of "Wanted - the next big idea" as follows: "Ideas – big ideas – are different from events. They are produced by events and, in turn, assist in producing events. Communist regimes, for example, were produced in part by Karl Marx's big idea that history had ended in the inevitable victory of socialism, an idea whose spur in the real world was the rapid growth in the 19th century of an industrial proletariat with nothing to sell but labour power; suddenly communism has lost its will and purpose." Additionally it took away the freedom and dignity of its people.

Another big idea is Capitalism now under pressure from its own inflation, which is, basically, the greed and power-mongering resulting from the unethical free wills of those minorities operating the systems though capital, in money terms, has its own energy for good. After the terrible events of 9/11 - under the convenient label of 'terrorism' for the benefit of keeping the industries alive and the oil flowing that produce the methods of mass destruction - there is the need to rein in the worst of the ills of capitalism.

Today we have a system that appears to give the people their freedom under the guise and title of 'democracy' but it has lost spiritual guidance by which people may otherwise maintain their free will and integrity. With the vast, unstoppable global movement of people we all become cosmopolitans and as democracy shows it is now outdated for, what was, at one time, a means for the people to be represented fairly across all lands it is now very distorted. Is a new label now required for the representation of the people? Might it be named Cosmocracy for futurity in the representation of the people by the people to free us from the democracies which have now developed into dictatorial and corrupt administrations? This begs another question is no one able to change the pattern of the present disastrous way of doing things? Is it too big a project? Surely not after the many wondrous things that humans have achieved and very worthwhile if we put our hands into those of God.

All faiths could aid in the synthesizing of those parts of the religions concerning themselves with ethical issues, without losing their differing opinions or their autonomy, by suffixing "Godlyan" to the names of each religion or faith, to signify their wider practice of 'LOVE through TASKS'. Leaders of religions would gain a fresh regard from their followers without loss of their particular religious persuasion or the status of their leaders. Our World of Wonders would benefit while the World of Wiles would be reduced by this approach to brotherly and sisterly love under the new concept of Cosmococracy as a political format and impetus by the people for the people.

UNITED NATIONS, UNESCO AND THE UNITED STATES

The formation of the United Nations has not yet achieved the desired unanimity among nations and this will not come about under present influences. Could the United States become sufficiently humble in their commerce and politics to share 'power with' rather than 'power over' lesser nations? It flatters the ego of citizens of their country to say they are the most powerful but with negative results when used for their own interests that do not include the best interests of others. 'Power Over' corrupts whereas 'Power With' synthesizes. The operations in the U.N. are relatively less important than the educational work of UNESCO, based in Paris, France which has an almost more important brief in bringing and upgrading good education to everybody upon which, ultimately, all U.N. understanding and principles are formed. The U.N. has a formidable course to run for improvement in conditions 'of the people by the people for the people' and for them to have an 'effective say' in decision making as illustrated by the lack of it in the 'terrorism' or 'invasion' of Iraq. Also the International Labour Organisation in Geneva, representing most working people, could help the U.N. to be more effective but it needs 'Cosmocratic' 'power with' in all organisations to do so.

SOME ILLUSSIONS OF WELLBEING

There are too many illusions about the public seemingly living in 'democracy' from which we are all meant to benefit; it is often the screen that hides secret deals designed to control our day-to-day lives for moneymaking minorities among whom many are corrupt and criminal. It looks wonderful to see on our screens the various groups of apparently Very Important People getting together to re-arrange the affairs of the peoples of, for example, the old Yugoslavia, until we realise the truth. The truth is that the powers which instigate a variety of wars through the 'seeming' hatreds among various peoples are by and for the 'interested' sectors of capitalists, munitions, oil and other manufacturers together with power based religions and political parties. They know that the peoples of the 'warring parties' are the ones who suffer from the pumping in of billions of loan dollars, as in the Balkans and now Afghanistan followed by Iraq. It becomes obvious that such ethnic cleansing is perpetrated to maintain the status quo of industrial growth and the manipulation of systems and peoples. Is our 'democracy' to be maintained by the killing and maiming of people, often half a world away from each other? Are these methods to continue as they did throughout the 20th century? For whose benefit we must, in all conscience, ask? Also 'How long will this continue?' But, to the point, 'What do we do about it, shrug our shoulders or try to 'Love through TASKS'?

Such questions have to be addressed, firstly, by individuals and then by groups. We all need to decide that much of the present is not good enough and that improvements start with each of us, through His Love and our TASKS to form Godlyanity. Then - with our neighbours and our representatives and systems we can develop the new and exciting label of Cosmococracy- there's the challenge! But, are we willing to change?

The event of 9/11 was a great opportunity for a paradigm shift, not for the euphemism 'war on terrorism' but for Peace We, the people, allowed the present world conditions to develop but can we reverse them? Yes, not from fear but from our newly realised joules of energy.

THE CHALLENGE

The God within us makes us all Godlyans
With TASKS as the commonality of all deeds
Until we respond with our best as citizens
Freewill obstructs His Love for our needs

Without conflicting our various beliefs
From whichever religion, philosophy or others
Godlyanity is the prospective spiritual relief
To show that the One God made us as brothers

The effect of the acronyms quoted herein
Is easily assimilated to assist our return
To a world that reduces the harms-way we are in
By invoking the PEACE for which we all yearn

The requirements for re-cultivating our ways
Thru' behavioural things that cry out for our efforts
To improve our practices and forgive in life's maze
And show God our Godlyness to which He resorts

The hearts that are yearning for The Coming One's return
First must acknowledge our improvements begin
With human reverence by TASKS so to earn
His willing response from Whom practitioners will win

Harmonising our minds with TASKS as our guide
Gives hope to humanity from the troubles it suffers
Today is the start of our new Godlyanity worldwide
Plus parental teaching of grace are our offers

Having these realisms in every heart and mind
Not fearing our chances within His Great Gift
Individually or collectively don't be left behind
In seizing this prospect of our Godlyan shift

FUTURE POSITIVE BY 'ESPRIT DE COSMOPOLITANS' IN COSMOCRACY

The children born in the future – the Idas and Ians who grow to be men and women – could be spiritually imbued with their Godlyanity by ESPRIT of community as cosmopolitans in the One World with the benefit of Cosmocracy.

ESPRIT-for Extra Sensory Positive Response In Tasks- will, in due time, cause humanity to think, talk, love and live as Godlyan members of ESPRIT de Cosmopolitans (people from all parts of the world). This would develop from the decrepit culture of democracy to the new and exciting global culture of Cosmocracy for cosmocrats - of mutual regard and common wellbeing- when Peoplism prevails. The principle that 'power with' works for human betterment rather than 'power over' would become clear among Godlyans in their efforts to create Godlyandom on Mother Earth.

COSMOCRATIC VISIONS FOR CULTURAL BENEFITS

From the deep-seated nature of pride in humans we are at present stuck in our existing cultures. The cultures displaying themselves in the many countries of Europe, which are endeavouring to become one as the European Union, seem mostly for economic benefit. Countries are not being asked to submerge their cultures in this endeavour and yet a new regard for mutual benefit needs to be moulded into an acceptable culture to allow for the retention of respective characteristics but without the systems of 'power over' and corruption which result in special benefits for some.

The way forward is by a Cosmocratic process, based upon Godlyanity, with administrative centres chosen because they are the most suitable for a particular requirement as in education, science, sociology, industrial production etcetra and not because of national pride but because they are best suited from their historical experience in a particular field of activity. All the main capitals of the world would make themselves available for choice as most suitable. These capitol cities will become more apparent as bases of particular suitabilities become apparent once the now massive movement of people settle like 'birds of a feather' to establish their skills and attributes with the convenient and all pervading language of English. Incidentally, though probably be design, the predominance of English language has nothing to do with English pride but all to do with the way technology in matters of communication has developed. Such a process might enable the nations to become 'associated' without the present political pressures of trying to be 'united'. Only time will tell but let us try.

Readers will realise that the contents of this epistle are from a life of observation and experience arising from many adventures coupled to my belief in an overall spiritual power which is conveniently called God though some may demur. It seems realistic and, to me, comforting that if each of us counts our blessings and helps others to achieve theirs then paths of Godlyanity and Cosmocracy will be worthwhile albeit a mountain to climb.

During WWII again I suffered 'gunshot wound- face' and survived the second time while driving a Sherman tank, this time with the Warwickshire Yeomanry, so I feel grateful to 'something' with mystique and outside of me. Is there a debate? Furthermore in later years the German unit with which we were fighting was traced and I with my late wife Joyce were invited to their regimental reunion in Bavaria when gifts were exchanged with appropriate speeches. These are the ingredients of my forgiveness - hard to imbue and yet so worthwhile - whilst not by word but mostly by my willingness to accept the invitation, between people hurt during historical or recent offences that bring the prospect of peace.

With love to all, Reg Haynes.
