

THINGS THAT SHAPE OUR PSYCHE AND JOULES

Probably it is our psyche with which we are born that mostly carries mystique but our energy has an ebb and flow about it. A joule is a unit of energy as in electricity and, though our bodies have our own deposits of such energy, it seems few people realise the forces within themselves. Anyway the combination of my psyche and my joules must have had a worthwhile effect when there was a mutual attraction between those of my late wife Joyce and I when we first met on 19th August 1938. Obviously we sparked something off between us which we retained over the next 67 years. We kept together happily with some ups and downs until she passed away from a stroke on 20th September 2005.

In retrospect we had personalities and aspirations which were complimentary yet with urges in different philosophies of how we wished to be and to live. We had clashes from time to time but on the whole the manuscript of my autobiography records the energetic years, the tears and the successes. I realise now – after three years of caring duties – that we were blessed with the ability of being ‘assistance bearers’ to each other and though, sometimes it was not obvious, the overall benefits for us both were indeed magical. The majority of humans must have had these beneficial results from firm and faithful relationships I am usually a private person but am now willing to ‘lay my head on the block’ and suggest that if more people were to disclose similar circumstances humanity would have some tangible records to build up a base upon which less fortunate people will be encouraged. So, where do we go from here?

Take the following for example. The new Archbishop of York speaks of the merits of the English as a people who should be encouraged to ‘reclaim their national heritage and culture’ as written in The Times of London on 22.11.2005 and I almost agree with His Grace. But do we really have to be ‘loud’ about our nationality, as are other nations, when there are many historical facts that naturally do it for us to which millions of people attest. The British Isles are well established in global recognition and in fact we can enhance that recognition by setting worthwhile examples notwithstanding some wayward exuberance being unleashed from time to time by those unconcerned about decent conduct. We can also take support from the fact that the initial letters of the four names of the peoples that make up the British are the Welsh Irish Scots English to form the acronym ‘wise’ of these islands. Personally I like the display of the respective flags that are part of Great Britain and am unconcerned that some may say it is not ‘politically correct’. What nonsense unless we expect all other nations to hide their nationality; identity is part of character and colour and parade of history. The reader may ask what has all that to do with the things that shape our lives, well, it is to do with standards and integrity and quality of life to be developed in every land. Firstly, ‘we’re blessed with love,’ though we don’t display it very much. Secondly, from an old song, ‘love is what makes the world go round’ but furthermore, from my manuscript about philosophy, consider the things we are missing or being affected by.

AQUARIUS, THE GIVER OF UNITY- FROM SHARE INTERNATIONAL

“Each age confers on humanity a specific quality of achievement. Pisces, the age now ending, has given to men the divine achievement of Individuality, together with the qualities of Devotion and Idealism. These are mighty advances in the long journey of evolution and have prepared mankind for the blessings of Aquarius.

The new age, Aquarius, has, too, its intrinsic quality – Synthesis – and in this coming time will, indeed, cause this divine attribute to manifest its beneficent Unity throughout the world. This present time of turmoil, division and separation will gradually give way to an era in which the ever-increasing forces of Aquarius will reform their magic, blending and knitting together of the disparate, unruly, parts. Thus will men undergo an extraordinary transformation, greater and faster than ever before in their long history.

For this to happen, men must respond correctly to the incoming energies, recreating the world’s structures in such a way that they present no barrier to the synthesising forces of Aquarius.

Hierarchy, physically present among men, will lend all their experience and knowledge to this end. Thus will it be, and thus will men renew their ascent towards their God-given destiny, demonstrating in all its glory their unity with God and with all men.

Soon, the weakness of the present structures will begin to show itself to even the most blinkered viewer. The cracks and rifts will become apparent for what they are: the signs of breakdown of an outworn and decaying order ready for renewal. The speed of that renewal lies in the hands of men; they alone must give full welcome to the new and enter gladly into the tasks of reconstruction.

Guided and helped by hierarchy, men will soon realise the benefit of change and trust the wisdom of their Elder Brothers to see them safely through the period of transition. Thus will it be. And thus will men re-find the divinity now seemingly lost. They will put aside, at last, the talent for war and confrontation. Learning to share, they will inaugurate the era of trust. Trusting, they will co-operate in solving the many problems which now face them and in grateful imitation of the Masters will awaken to the love which has been ever present but unknown". (SHARE INTERNATIONAL VOL22 No8 – October 2003)

GODLYANITY THEORY AND GODLYAN PRACTICE

The Godlyanity Theory states "God made all humans in worldly image each of us containing a bit of God's Spirit within which is our own free will the blessing of which requires that we love Him and our fellow humans as we do ourselves for betterment."

Our bit of His Spirit is our Godlyness with which to practice our own free will with love and a free mind. We are taught - from whichever religion, faith or belief - to manifest the Glory of God within each of us, call it our Godlyness, by which to follow in His/Her path towards brotherly and sisterly Love. Our Godlyness enables us to realise the difference between good and bad, right and wrong or what is for the best as the means of contributing to His Plan for the betterment of all humanity.

Our love for Him and for all living things is often disregarded and cultivates activities that deny us Grace and Peace. Our 'bit of God' within our being is not fully expounded by parents, teachers and preachers or by many among us resulting in self-inflicted practices that are less than the best for everyone in this trouble torn-world.

Within Godlyanity people can regard themselves and others as Godlyans after more widely practising The Five Ethical Duties of TASKS - Truthfulness Accountability Service Kindness Synthesis which are the required imperatives of all people. If the religions, while remaining autonomous, were to expound The Godlyanity Theory, they would become partially synthesized to the extent of more widely preaching and practising 'LOVE through TASKS' as the prime means by which to bring betterment to this World In Need. This philosophy enables the religions to signify their support for Godlyanity by adding the suffix 'Godlyan' to their title without implying they have joined another religion or faith; they would simply be indicating their adherence to the Love of God as their contribution to establishing Godlyandom on Mother Earth by 'LOVE through TASKS' in His name.

TOWARDS A PARTIAL SYNTHESIS OF THE RELIGIONS

From The Lucis Trust publication "Ponder on This" page 294 "...aid men everywhere to strengthen each others' work. This will bring about a pooling of spiritual resources and a united effort. Then there will simply be one great body of believers...they will stand together on the same platform of brotherhood and of human relationships." About which: -

EDUCATIONALLY and CULTURALLY the segments of LOVE are in the imperative acronym TASKS for Truthfulness Accountability Service Kindness Synthesis - being humanly comprehensible- but selfish man-made minority power bases obstruct the pursuit of PEACE - Peoples Ethical And Cultural Excellence.

CAN WE return closer to God? Yes! The dimension of Godlyanity, based upon 'LOVE through TASKS' could rejuvenate the flagging influence of religious leaders. Believers who let God live within themselves become Godlyans to establish Godlyandom on Mother Earth for the betterment of humanity and all life.

TASKS for PEACE seeks to improve social conscience by supplementing all religions with the positive virtues of TASKS - expected before every thought, word and deed in human conduct and endeavour – to partially synthesize the religions after which they would remain autonomous yet uplifted by the new dynamism.

THE QUEEN appealed, in a broadcast to the British Commonwealth in December 2004, for greater tolerance and understanding, saying "it is vitally important that we all should participate and co-operate for the sake of the whole community." Family units are basic to all society and the essential needs of children require a stable background by which to develop into loving adults with self-discipline and respect for the colour, race, creed and status of others. Extraordinary new efforts are required to improve human conditions and very few practical proposals are made from which people can feel inspired to respond therefore the wider use of the all-inclusive TASKS as cultural self-therapy is broadly expressed.

The United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization, based in Paris France, has almost a more important part to play in guiding hearts and minds than the United Nations Association in New York. A change of emphasis from political pressure upon the UN to one of educational guidance from UNESCO is desirable to establish a 'power with' philosophy rather than the 'power over' presently conducted by some nations. TASKS could reduce much corrupt and sad experience from undisciplined freewill and, when applied sincerely, would simplify the moral maze through its GRACE, the acronym for Good Relationships Acquire Creative Empathy.
